

Fellowships and Grant Opportunities – International – Global Health

Due Date	Source	Name	Amount	Additional Information
Due: July Starts: July following year	Program in Global Surgery and Social Change (PGSSC) at Harvard Medical School	Paul Farmer Global Surgery Fellowship	Unfunded	The PGSSC is a collaborative effort between the Harvard teaching hospitals, Harvard Medical School/ Department of Global Health and Social Medicine, Boston Children’s Hospital (BCH) and Partners In Health (PIH). Through the Paul Farmer Global Surgery Fellowships and Research Associate positions, it aims to empower surgeons, surgical trainees and medical students around the world with the skills they need to improve the health of some of the world's most impoverished people through education & training, research and advocacy. This is a two-year position for those who are currently in surgical training or residency (U.S and international), and who wish to take time off during their training to conduct research pertinent to global surgery, anesthesia, and obstetrics and gynecology care as well as advocate for said research, education, and policy development in the field of global surgery in resource poor settings around the world.
This award will not be open in the 2022-23 competition	Fulbright Program and the Fogarty International Center of the U.S. National Institutes of Health	Fulbright/Fogarty Fellowship in Public Health Previous Successful Application	Salary support varies according to host country and principal investigator.	Fogarty has partnered with the Fulbright Program, the flagship international educational exchange program sponsored by the U.S. government, to promote the expansion of research in public health and clinical research in resource-limited settings for medical and graduate students.

Due Date	Source	Name	Amount	Additional Information
November Starts: July following year	University of California Global Health Institute	GloCal Health Fellowship Contact email for Kimberly Bale is kimberly.bale@ucsf.edu	12-month mentored research fellowship 12-month stipend support Health insurance (U.S. trainees) $15,000 for research funding Travel costs to and from international field site	UCGHI's GloCal Health Fellowship provides aspiring global health researchers with outstanding interdisciplinary education and training in innovative research designed to improve health for populations around the world. GloCal is recruiting individuals interested in HIV research, non-HIV-related mental health research and other global health priority research areas such as women's health, planetary health and non-communicable diseases. The fellowship is designed for: US doctoral students, professional students and postdoctoral fellows, as well as foreign postdoctoral fellows from affiliated international sites in low- and middle-income countries.